China's state-owned enterprises have undergone a dramatic transformation over the past decade and contribute significantly to China's outbound investment strategy. European companies and their legal advisors involved with China related transactions should be aware of the unique risks and challenges they face when dealing with their state owned commercial partners in China. Understanding how to enforce your rights in China after a commercial dispute has arisen is equally of paramount importance to anyone contracting with a Chinese entity. This seminar organised by the Hong Kong International Arbitration Centre looks to explore the important topics of Chinese state owned enterprises in international arbitration and the enforcement of commercial rights in China-related disputes.

Experienced panelists will speak about Chinese state owned enterprises, the interaction between state owned enterprises, state immunity and the state, the judicial approach of the Chinese courts to arbitration and the relevance of bilateral investment treaties in China-related disputes.

Topics include:

- ◆ Role of Chinese state owned enterprises in China & in Europe
- ◆ Chinese state owned enterprises and immunity under the state of the PRC
- ◆ Enforcing Rights in China related arbitrations
- ◆ Getting arbitral commercial awards recognised and enforced in China
